FINALE The Entire Cast

The Ice Follies you are about to see is the best Ice Follies ever and the three men looking out at you on the left are the reason. They invented the Ice Follies and they think and work the year around — together with an outstanding staff of designers, composers, choreographers and lighting experts — to make sure each new Ice Follies is better than the last. After 31 years, “The Boys” — Eddie Shipstad, Oscar Johnson and Roy Shipstad — are getting pretty good at topping themselves.

As you will see in a few moments when The Boys transport you to an enchanted garden where sweet peas dance with frogs and the ladybugs are real ladies. You will attend a fancy wedding, celebrate New Year’s Eve, slip back into the gaslight era, sail a Viking ship and skim the snow in a royal sleigh. Happy music sets the mood as pretty girls — those delightful Ice Folliettes — glide out on silver skates to smile on you. Happy music sets the mood for an evening of gladness — an eye-filling spectacle of lavishly dressed girls, a parade of champions demonstrating their difficult and graceful art and great comedians. In short, the greatest array of fabulous skating stars ever assembled.

There never has been anything like the Ice Follies, and Eddie, Roy and Oscar have been acclaimed as three of the most imaginative, inventive and altogether remarkable men in the entertainment world. What they created was entirely new — a musical extravaganza on ice. They transformed a demanding sport into a brilliant spectacle — “The greatest thing on ice since the invention of champagne.”

A New York critic once said of The Boys: “Most of us start out with a big dream and immediately begin to whittle it down. Oscar, Eddie and Roy started with a big dream and have made it bigger year after year.”

More than 64,000,000 people have seen the Ice Follies since it opened in Tulsa, Oklahoma, on November 7, 1936. As a comparison point, 44,000,000 have seen “Gone With The Wind,” the most successful motion picture ever made.

There were 28 people in that first show and they traveled in a shiny new bus — along with all the props and scenery.

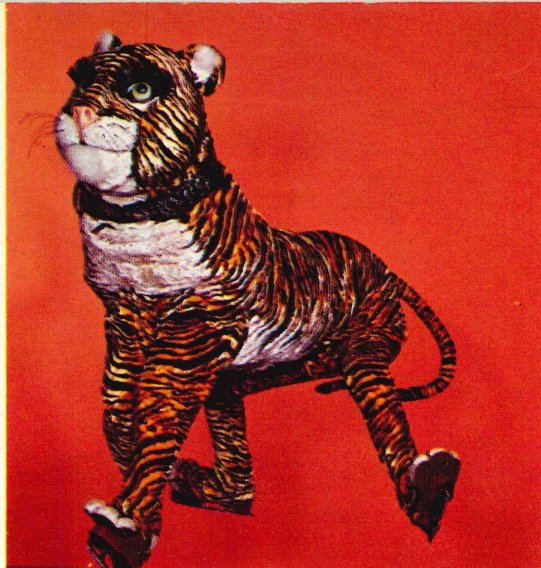

Today, the Ice Follies company of 167 travels on a special 12-car train. And though beset by wind and rain, flood and blizzard, the Ice Follies has never missed a performance — a record never equalled in the history of show business.

The costumes for the first tour cost about $500. Costumes for the 1967 Ice Follies, made in the Ice Follies' own shop, cost over $400,000. The annual production figure is more than $700,000.

But enough of the behind-the-scenes statistics. The show's the thing. The music is about to start, and here come the pretty girls.

THE SHINING LIGHT

Patsy Cook was senior ladies champion of British Columbia before she joined the Ice Follies. She is a smooth, cool skater and her costume reflects her grace.

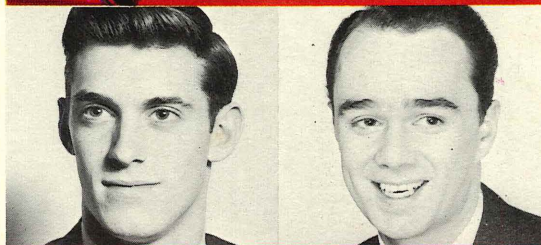

TIMMY, THE TIGER

Rik McKinnon (fore) and Dick Cooper (aft) are the inside story of Timothy, a striped terror, fresh from the nearest tank of laughing gas. Tim is the latest in a long line of mirthful Follies animals. Patty Cunningham is Lola the Siren.

GENTLEMEN OF THE ROAD

Bill Wall and his partner take us back to the days when unemployment meant a carefree jaunt along life's byways.

For a couple of lazybones, they seem to lead a hectic kind of existence.

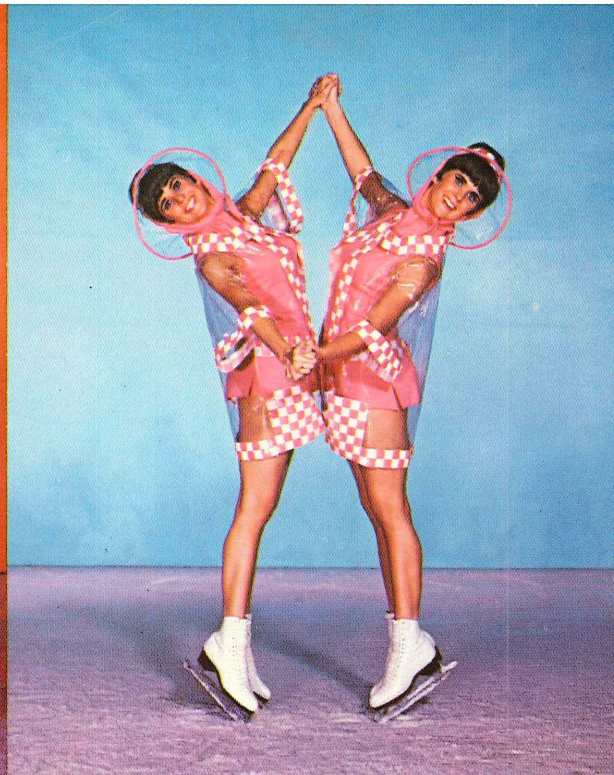

GOING ON A PICNIC

The Williams Family, First Family of the Ice, are gaily dressed for a sunshiny outing in the woods. This is the second Ice Follies season for the family — Johnny and Pat, young Robbie, 9, and Debbie, already a featured skater at 12.

LITTLE DREAM GIRL

Debbie Williams, who made her debut on ice at age 2, has been in the spotlight all her life. In addition to being an accomplished skater and a straight "A" student, she has a fine singing voice, as you will hear when she sings "Rock Garden Rock" — an original Dick Freisen song written for the Ice Follies.

DOUBLE EXPOSURE

Judi and Vicki Denton, identical twins, graduated from high school and immediately signed with the Ice Follies. "We always knew we wanted to be in the show," they say. This is their fourth year with the Follies as featured skaters.

MAGICAL GARDEN OF DREAMS

INKY DINKY

Cathy Freed of Allentown, Pa., portrays Inky Dinky, the famous Ice Follies bear. She presides over an enchanted garden where all the flowers, insects and animals invite their many friends in the audience to join them in their own original song — "Rock Garden Rock."

SWING IN THE NEW

ROMANTIC RENDEZVOUS

Richard Dwyer and Dorothyann Nelson, a team as popular as apple pie and ice cream, get together in a gentle spoof of the elegant Edwardian era when the pre-jet set flew about in their own balloons.

LOIS WALTERS

Lois Walters (on the right) came out of the Ice Folliette line this year for a specialty routine of her own. This is not unusual in Ice Follies since the producers keep a sharp eye on the talent in the line and like to see the younger skaters advance.

GARY JOHNSON

Gary Johnson makes his surprising debut as a laugh producer in this ingenious act which he perfected after six years. Gary is a skater, a clown, a concessionaire and a professional photographer—a jack of many trades and a master of them all. Patty Cunningham assists.

THE TARTAR

Istvan Szenes, four-time figure skating champion of his native Hungary, brings all the fire and dash of his romantic country to this year's characterization of a Tartar. He interprets Slavic music from Khachaturian to folk melodies.

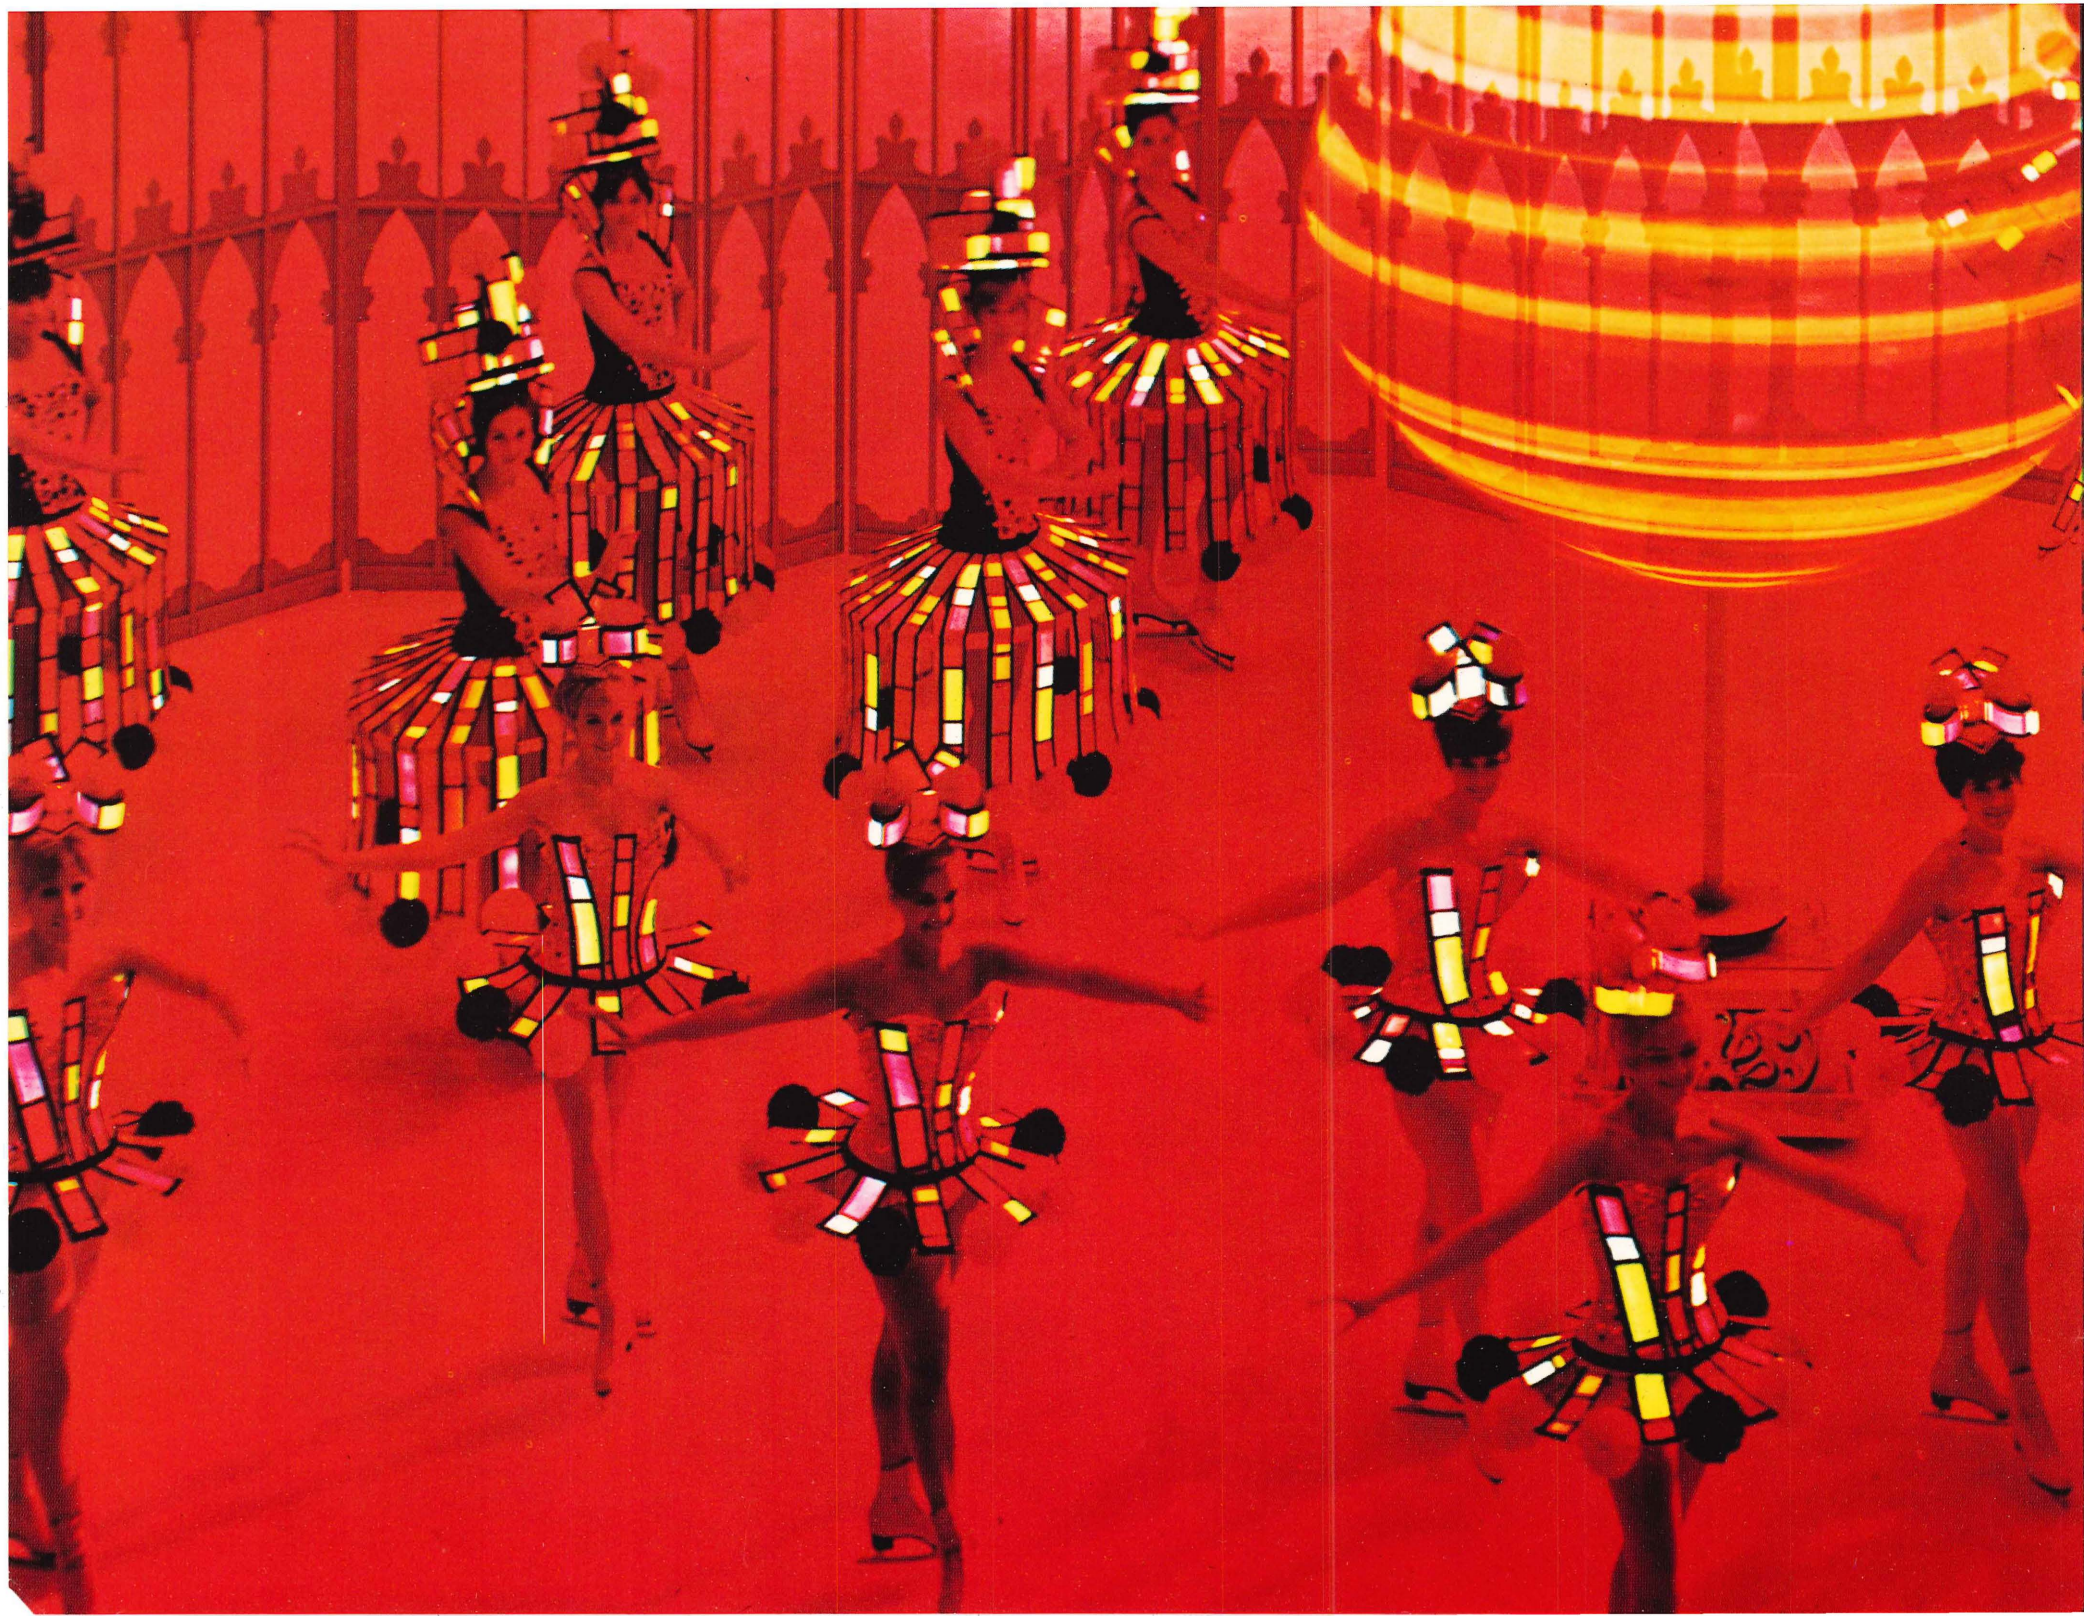

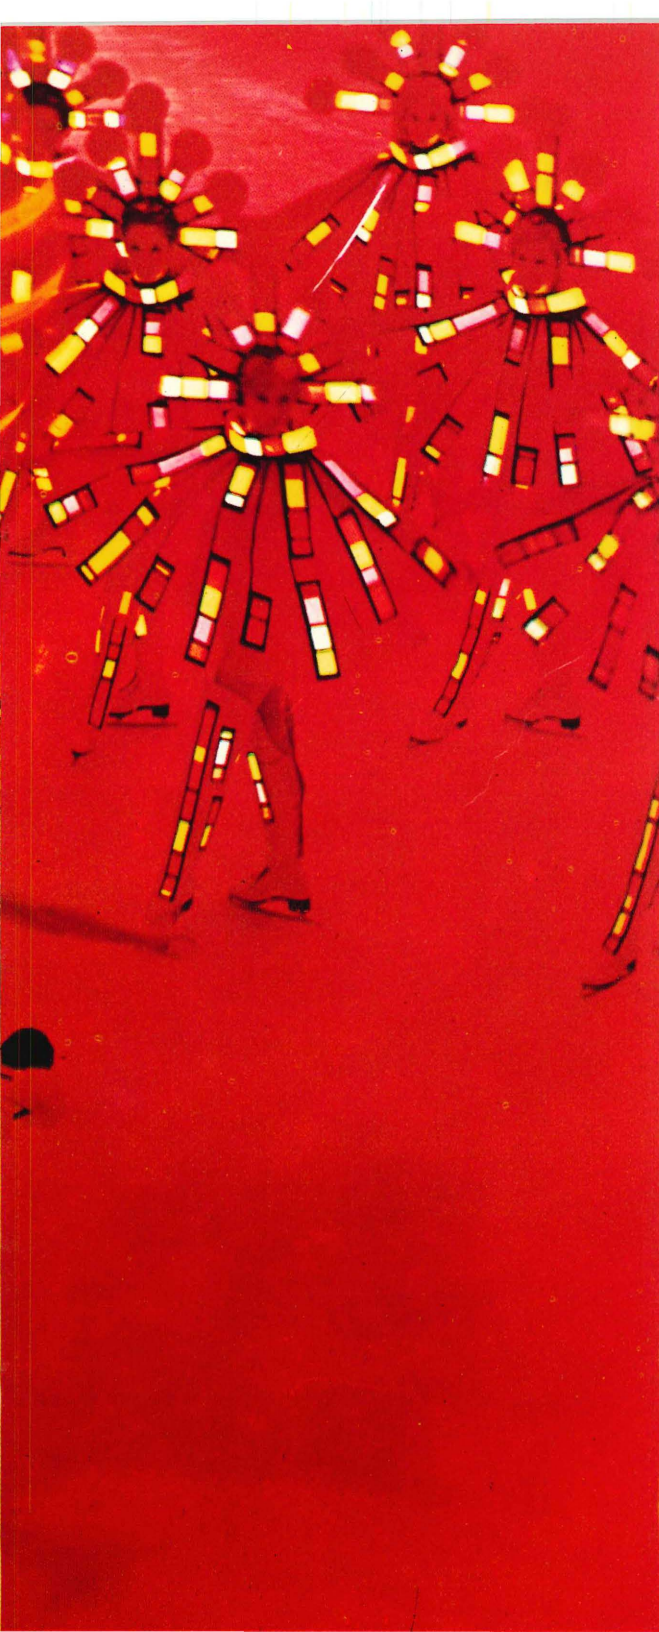

THE ICE FOLLIES FOUR

The Frampton Twins—Karilyn and Marilyn—team up with Hugh Smith and Bill Thomas as a scintillating new foursome of very strong, very graceful skaters.

VISION IN BLUE

ILLUMINATIONS

BOND STREET

Hugh Smith and Bill Thomas, dressed in the height of Bond Street tailoring, perform their amazing synchronized skating pair to "A Foggy Day in London Town." Both Bill and Hugh were champion skaters before joining the Follies.

THE IMPERIAL DANCE CHAMPIONS OF AUSTRALIA

Colin Beatty and glamorous Marcella Vargas somehow managed to find enough ice in Australia to become Imperial Champions. The Beattys are unsurpassed for the elegance and regal grace they bring to the ice. Sometimes.

THE ICE FOLLIETTES

The World's Greatest Precision Skating Ensemble—the long line of beauty and skill which has always been one of the pleasantest and most exciting features of the Follies. The nimble footwork of the 32 Ice Folliettes and the spinning pinwheel which brings their performance to a dazzling finish have become Ice Follies' trademarks. The Ice Folliettes compete strongly for a place in the precision line and spend long hours rehearsing to maintain the sharp edge on their skating. They also have to watch their weight because each costume is made for a particular girl and a few extra pounds could be disastrous. Surprise weigh-ins keep them conscious of their diets. This year the girls are costumed as extremely feminine matadors. They dance to familiar music of the bullring — finishing with "The March of the Toreadors" from "Carmen."

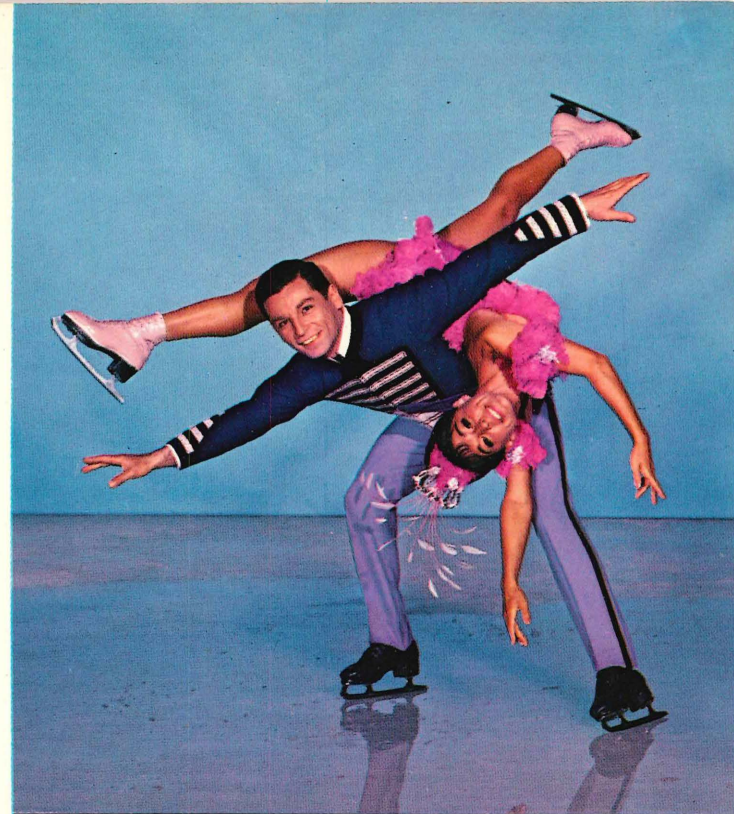

FÊTE POLONAISE

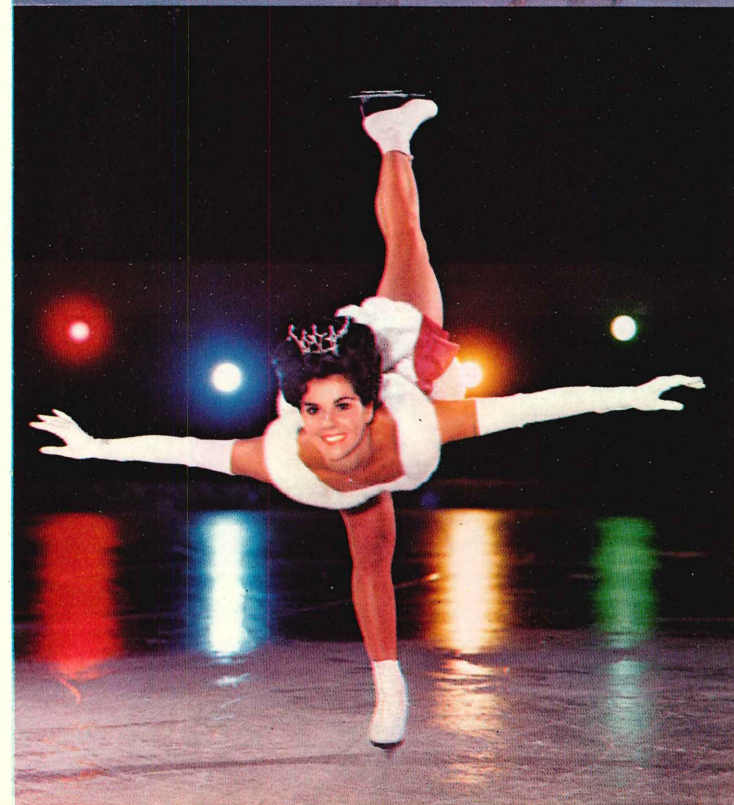

ROYAL ROMANCE

Willi and Inge Schilling reflect the brilliance of the Polish court as they skate a warm and daring adagio. Willi was junior champion of Germany. Inge was a ballet dancer before Willi taught her to skate.

THE COQUETTE

Dorothyann Nelson uses her obvious charms to stir up a flirtation with the "Crown Prince" in "Fête Polonaise." Dorothyann is a Chicago girl who started to skate when she was 4 and was United States pair champion before joining the Ice Follies in 1962.

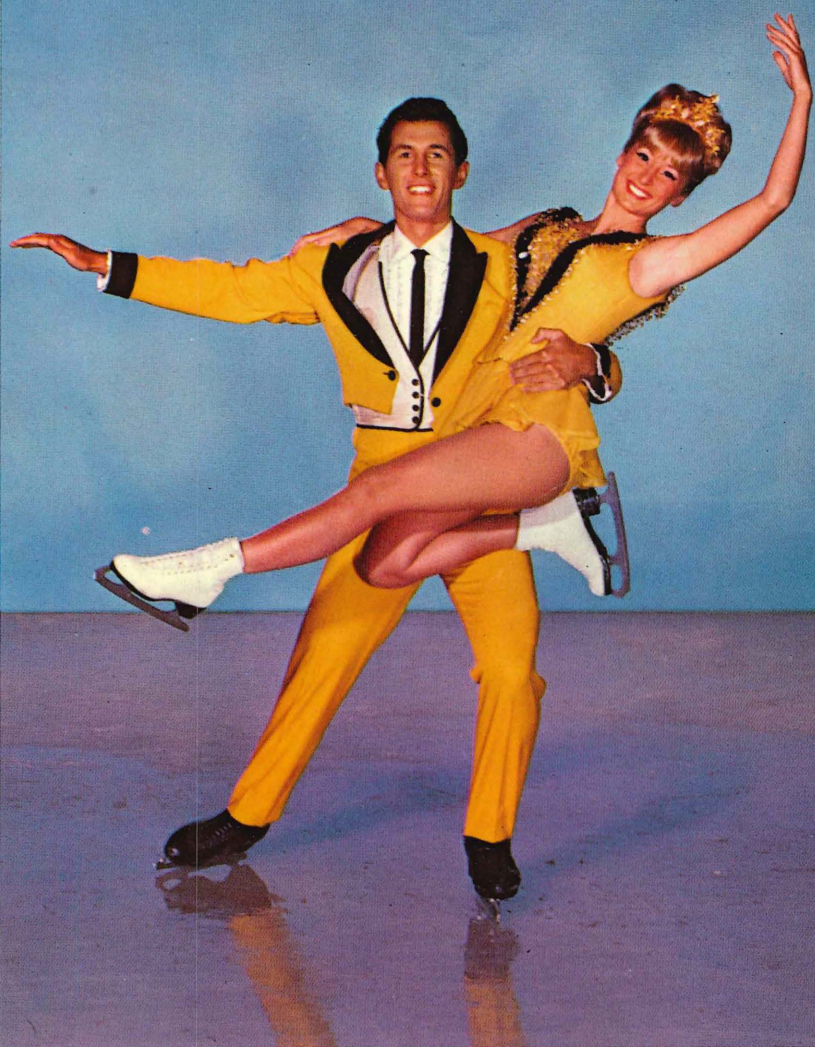

KING OF BLADES

Donald Jackson, our own world's professional champion and one of the foremost skaters of all time, interprets the blues. Watch particularly for the daring jumps he makes with his arms crossed. Jackson has achieved his amazing control by body balance alone. When Don won the world's amateur championship in 1962, Dick Button, five-times world champion — said, "I doubt if there will ever be such a genius as Jackson on ice again."

PUTTIN' ON THE RITZ AT ST. MORITZ

Mr. Frick, the Dean of all Skating Comics, will have performed his amazing antics more than 11,000 times in his record 28th year with the Ice Follies. His original bag of tricks is often imitated yet never equalled. This year he puts an extra twist on his famous Swiss movements and descends on St. Moritz in an avalanche of laughs. Gary Johnson is the headwaiter.

RADIANT RHYTHMS

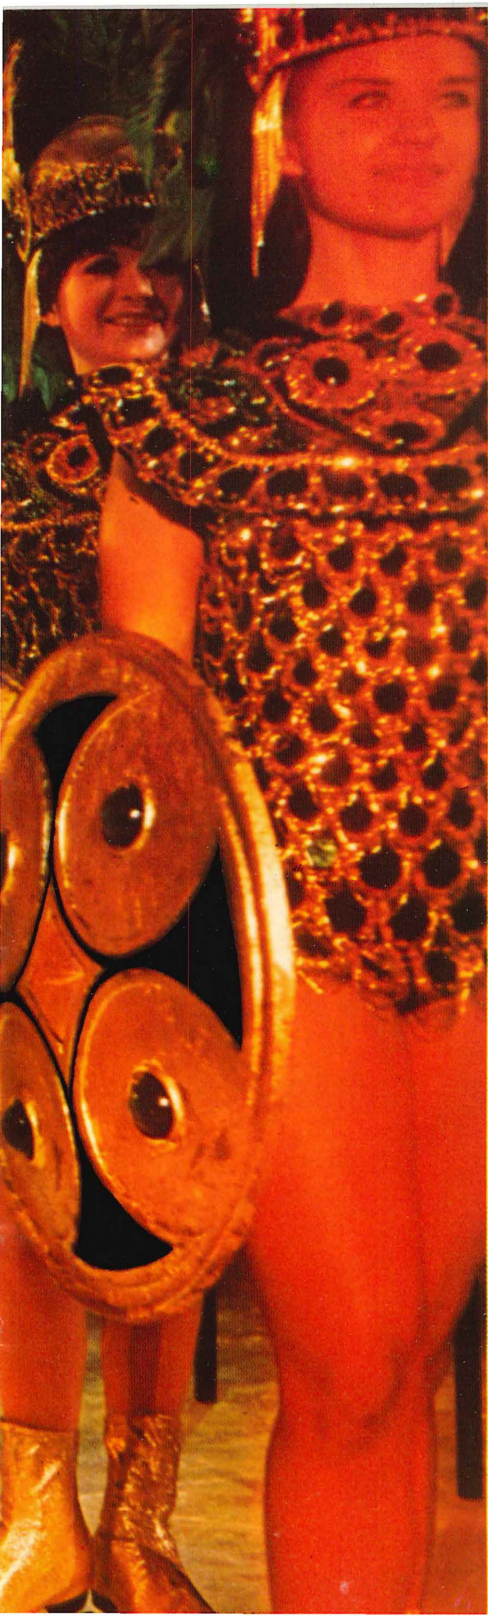

Ken Ormsby and Paulette Doan joined the Ice Follies after winning the North American ice dance championship. They are such a fine pair on ice that they decided to make the arrangement permanent — they were married in June of 1965.

GOBS OF FUN

The Scarecrows — Bill Jack, Bob Leduc and Colin Beatty — infiltrate the French navy and threaten to sink the whole fleet under a barrage of laughs. Leduc is Canadian, Jack, a Scot and Beatty, an Englishman — the fun they generate is universal.

VOYAGE OF THE VIKINGS

FREYA, GODDESS OF BEAUTY

Ina Bauer, known as "Fire on Ice," was three-times champion in her homeland, Germany, and the best free-style skater in the European championships before joining the Ice Follies. This year she dances the role of an ancient Viking goddess in a distinctive style that is all her own.

This Hungarian bride wears embroidered eyelet nylon specially made for this gown, over butter-colored silk shantung. She has a traditional apron of hand-embroidered white silk brocade, a fichu of soft orange and a headdress of wheat stalks, fruit and coins.

The charming Mexican bride wears a striking wedding dress of shrimp-pink, sheer nylon covered with white lace applique and a ruching of red roses. The collar of another dress, which forms her cape, frames her face in a burst of lace and roses.

The richness of the Orient gleams from this gown worn by a bride of Thailand. Her dress is of metal-gold and white adorned with pearls and 24-carat bugle beads. Her golden pagoda hat holds a wreath of water lilies.

A dainty bride of France wears a Breton gown of embroidered lace against the palest mint green taffeta. A white bow anchors her tall hat and handmade lilies of the valley tuck into ruffles at her throat.

BRIDAL RHAPSODY

It doesn't matter if she is called a bride, a menyasszony, una novia or une novelle mariee — a girl is never more beautiful than on her wedding day. Mary Wills has dressed the six beautiful Dwyer Girls in bell-ringing glamor.

The United States bride wears a lavish gown of brocaded rosy-biege satin and fox fur which edges the double skirt and sweeping train. She carries a fox muff, and her headdress is a wreath of velvet oak leaves — for a lovely Fall wedding.

Our Manchurian bride wears a dazzling coat and train made of layers of sheer metallic cloth, blue-sparkle chiffon and sheer silver nylon to produce a rich, shimmering effect. Beaded dragonflies sparkle on the coat. Her headdress rises from a cap of pearls.

THE DEBONAIRE

Richard Dwyer, a top-hatted figure of charm and polish, is internationally known as an exciting performer who has lent his warmth to the Ice Follies for the last 16 years. He was a champion skater before he joined the Follies and as "The Debonaire" has become a symbol of the show's brightness.

MARY WILLS

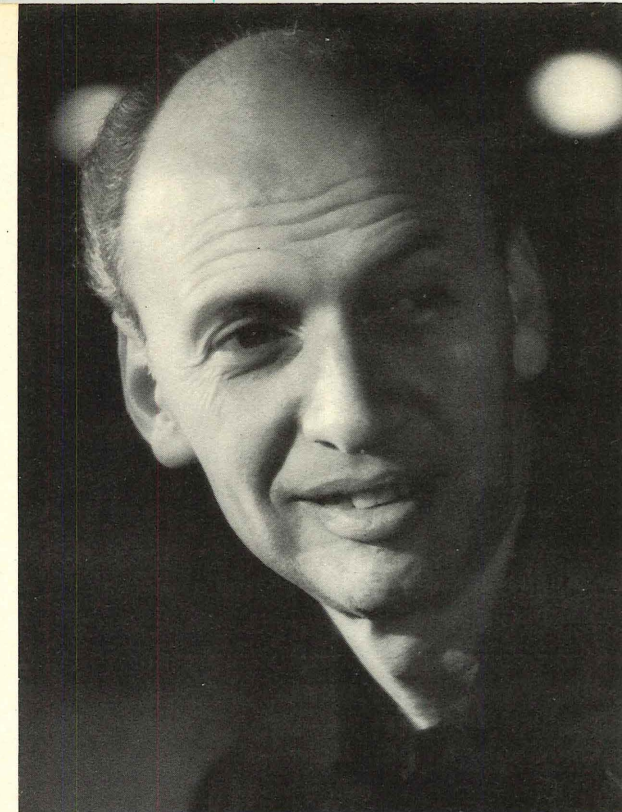

This is the fifth year Mary Wills has brought her elusive and joyous touch to the design of Ice Follies costumes — unrivaled in the world today. After completing her designs for the 1967 Follies, Miss Wills became costume design coordinator for "Camelot," one of the biggest motion pictures of the year.

FRANCES CLAUDET

Miss Claudet was a champion figure skater and an Ice Follies favorite until she turned her talents to choreography. She has been acclaimed internationally for her outstanding and unique ability in developing the glittering patterns the skaters form on the ice.

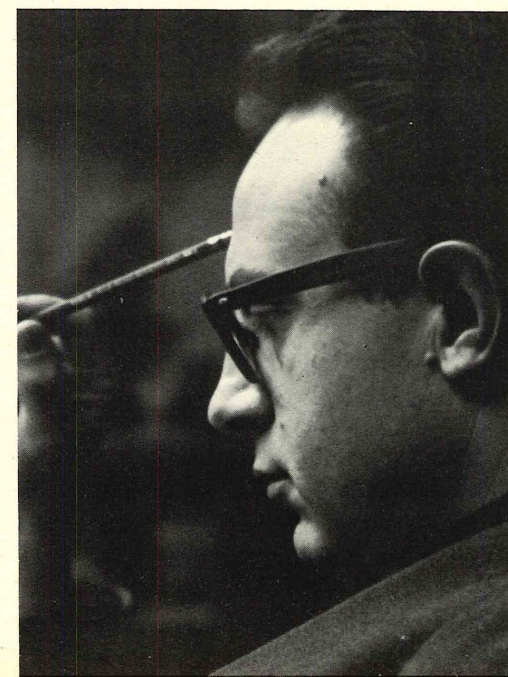

STANLEY KAHN

As director of dance and staging, Stanley Kahn works closely with the principal skaters helping them develop ideas for their theatrical routines including music, background material and showmanship. In cooperation with his wife, Pat Mason Kahn, he operates a school of theatrical dance in San Francisco.

LEONARD DOSS

Leonard Doss, art director, has credits for scores of motion pictures and won praise for his exhibits at the New York World's Fair. He brings his versatile talents to the design of Ice Follies props and stage-settings.

DICK FRIESEN

Dick Friesen has written music for motion pictures and dozens of television commercials. He is a composer, lyricist, orchestrator, arranger and recording engineer—obviously a man of music. He wrote the original music for the 1967 Follies, including the delightful "Rock Garden Rock."

How the Ice Follies stars put the finishing touches on a beautifully polished show.

The Ice Folliettes, as well as stars like Richard Dwyer, Dorothyann Nelson, Donald Jackson and Ina Bauer need a shine that lasts! They use Shinola. Try it. We think you'll rely on it too!

THE GUARANTEED 7-DAY SHOE POLISH.

Smooth Free-Style Performer stars in sandwich routine. America's largest-selling peanut butter glides gracefully over bread, crackers, etc., tracing Figure 8's and other delicious patterns. Skippy stays fresh and pure and good to eat right down to the very last encore at the bottom of the jar.
